Dr. Allan Mehr has become a top-rated Audiologist in the state of Oregon on Healthgrades.com, reports www.pacificaudiology.com.

Salem, OR – April 5, 2017 /MarketMedia/ —

Pacific Audiology recently announced that the practice is celebrating top honors from one of the internet's premier resources for medical practice and professional ratings. Healthgrades.com has listed Pacific Audiology's own Dr. Allan Mehr as their top-rated audiologist in the state of Oregon. His 5-star rating is the result of many positive reviews from past patients who were pleased with his expertise and the comfortable environment created by his staff.

"Our mission at Pacific Audiology is simple: we want to help people make more of their lives through better hearing. To achieve that goal, we take our cues from our patients, listening to their needs and tailoring the office experience so they are met. We are grateful for the recognition we've received from Healthgrades.com but are even more delighted that we've been able to impact the lives of so many of our patients by enhancing the way they experience the world around them," said Dr. Mehr.

Dr. Allan Mehr has been practicing audiology and providing Hearing Aids in Salem Oregon for the past 36 years. He earned a doctoral degree in audiology from Adelphi University in New York and spent part of his career as a Teacher of the Deaf before starting Pacific Audiology Center in 1980.

Many of Dr. Mehr's five-star Healthgrades.com ratings mention his patients' appreciation of his trustworthiness, helpfulness, professional staff, and easy scheduling process. One reviewer from the Dallas, Oregon area stated that Dr. Mehr and his staff were "easy to talk to, knowledgeable, and can recommend solutions based on your needs." The same reviewer commented on how short the wait is once she gets to the office.

Dr. Mehr went on to say, "Nothing makes us happier than making our patients happy, and I and my staff consider it a win every time we've provided the right solution backed by a memorable experience. This has been our goal every day for nearly four decades, and we look forward to having more opportunities to improve lives through better hearing for many years to come."
